TRANSITIONING YOUR CATS SUCCESSFULLY

- 1 Set up your new BREEZE[®] Litter System next to your current litter box. If you don't currently use a litter box with high sides or a top, remove the BREEZE sidewall or hood for now.
- 2 Move some clumps and solid waste from your current box to the clean BREEZE system. This will help your cats recognize their new bathroom. Once they start using the BREEZE box, you can remove the clumps and solid waste.
- 3 Stop cleaning the old litter box. Cats like clean, so make the new BREEZE box the most appealing option by not scooping the old box. Sounds gross, but this step is key to a successful transition.
- 4 Add the sidewall if removed in Step 1, or add the hood with the lid open at first. Once your cats are using the BREEZE system regularly, close the hinged hood.
- 5 Toss out that old box completely once your cats have started using the BREEZE system for all of their potty needs.

Animal behaviorists recommend multiple cat households have multiple litter boxes: one system per cat, plus one additional system (2 cats = 3 litter systems).

EXPERT TIPS:

- Be patient. BREEZE Litter System is very different from traditional litter boxes, and some cats may take longer than others to make the switch.
- Don't force your cats into the BREEZE box as this could frighten them. Let them explore on their own. It's important they make the choice to use it.
- Set up BREEZE right beside their previous box. Putting it in the same location helps minimize the change your cats are experiencing.
- Give your cats space. Let them explore the new box on their own. Even cats prefer a little privacy when they are doing their business!
